About

Studied in the direction of Instrument Engineering, where I studied:

- Programming languages C/C++, PHP, Assembly;
- Oracle data base and SQL language;
- Computer networks, where modeled local networks, virtual local networks and VPN network
- OC Linux - work with files, files access permissions, write and run scripts, data protection

At the beginning of 2022, i became interested in web development, specifically Back-end. I started learning Python, HTML, CSS on my own.

Now I'm continuing to study the backend, read books (Now i'm reading: Matthew Wilkes "Advanced Python Development", Vladimir Dronov "Django 3.0 The practice of creating websites in Python"), watch youtube channels about Python and development : PythonToday, selfedu, Диджитализируй (my favorite 1), Лёша Корепанов (my favorite 2).

Interested in the Java languag

I easily perceive information and learn: I do not get lost in a large flow of information, I quickly sort and assimilate.

I completely immerse myself and concentrate on the tasks, I approach everything as responsibly as possible.

I always try to stay in a cool mind and maintain a good atmosphere around me.

Although I may seem shy at first acquaintance, but I always treat everyone with friendliness. Not toxic!
